And they're off! The grocery-cart races start with a bang as Mr. Frazier supervises.

RAIDER SPIRIT

Bonfires, grocery-cart races, piggy-back basketball, food-eating contests and male cheerleaders were all a part of the football and basketball Spirit Weeks at Northridge. The cheerleaders and the students rallied together to cheer the home team to victory. Many events took place earlier in the week also. The teachers staged a mock football game in which Northridge won despite the fact that the win was somewhat dishonorable. Piggy-back basketball and the food-eating contests were the highlights of Spirit Week. Grocery-cart races took place to stir up the spirit of the students. Once again, Spirit Week was a success.

Is it in? The shot goes up by sophomores Faith Shalaty and Gary Cripe.

Mr. (or is it Mrs.?) Lukens gets carried away by the excitement of Spirit Week.

Rex Miller appears to be enjoying his ride to the Homecoming game.

STARRY NIGHT

On the magical Homecoming night the Raider football team defeated the Angola Hornets to make the night perfect. Three candidates competed for the title, Homecoming Queen, Tami Hawkins, Lori Robinson, and Michelle Erickson. Michelle was later crowned queen. In the float competition the Juniors stole the show with their theme "Locomotion." The Sophomores came in second with "Puttin' on the Blitz." "Flashdance, Oh What a Feeling," was the theme of the Seniors float in third place. The Freshmen class float was "Raider Touch." Homecoming Night was truly the highlight of the football season.

MY LOVE

Soft music and swirling skirts ushered in the 1984 Prom. The Juniors played host to the Seniors, holding the Prom at the Marriott Hotel in South bend. The evening began with dinner. After that and a very short program presented by the Juniors, the dance began. Near the end of the dance the King and the Queen, Sam Hanover and Michelle Erickson, were crowned as well as the Prince and the Princess (Rich Troyer and Korie Bontrager). In the end the evening became one of the most unforgettable events of the season.

Dressing up adds to the fun of rock and rolling. Here, the night away.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Foreign languages are a whole new world to some students. With the help of Mr. Frazier (German) and Mr. Woodworth (Spanish), students can become familiar with and learn to speak another language. Although there is plenty of hard work in the form of translations, grammar drills, and dictations, these classes can be fun too! Parties and games are certainly high points during the year.

Here Frazier and Rich Traperman give a friendly "hallo!" by Paula Mast, while Terry Moninger tries to chat.

Rubene East models Herr Frazier's rowdy hat while Rhonda took Terry Roder, Holly Rowley, Tammy Boyer, Rich, and Paula comment.

World 1.17. As usual Brian Kotka (Dan Falt and I's Yulman) would rather see Augustine into doing other things.

Whatever it is, it's laughing! At least Sam Houser, Kinky Waters and Scott Kaufman think so.

Who's the dance in the hat? It's Mr. Wilkey and it's his birthday. The students got out of class for the party.

A camera! Anything is more exciting than Advanced Comm. to Kirby Rhodes and Paul Johnson.

KLARN IT!!

"Shostak's due!" "Quick let me copy it!" "Mr. Weaver what do you mean life isn't always fair?" L.A. and Social Studies are not the most exciting classes but those favorite teachers made those classes a bit more bearable. Although there was a lot of work there was some learning done. Weaver's laws have made us all better people and Shostak helped on those S.A.T.'s. Remember — Econ will help, research papers won't, and never play leap frog with a unicorn!

BUSINESS AS USUAL

No, we're not talking about Men At Work! Even though the people we are talking about use instruments too. These instruments revolve around numbers and words instead of music. Under the terrific guidance of Mr. Modlin and Miss VanVranken (lovingly known as Miss V), students prepare for the real world.

Now ladies - is this a gossip hour or class time? Rose Boudrager and Marci Troyer would rather gossip!

Mr. Macho, John E. Miller, tries to keep his numbers straight.

These kiddies have just finished their milk and cookie break! Steve Cross goes back to work on the never-ending jobbie of Dawn Kriegbaum goevion.

Are you sure you were doing math? Mr. Von Gunten wonders just what those figures are that cover Patty Berry's and Jenny Packer's paper are.

Relaxing in the few seconds left before class, Michelle Erickson lounges while Treya Cook takes the opportunity to prepare for class by sharpening her pencil.

NUMERICALLY SPEAKING

Believe it or not but mathematics is important! Without math a person lacks the training needed for almost all potential careers. Computer skills are becoming increasingly more important tools in society. The Northridge math teachers work hard to keep up with the ever-changing subject and try to stay abreast of the many new ideas. Through them students have a great opportunity to expand their horizons and knowledge also.

Whatever is on that screen, it appears Mike Ingrid

Mr. Harbizer explains a point during Prob 11
Stat while the class rapidly scribbles notes.

TEST TUBES AND BUNSEN BURNERS

Science is a major part of the curriculum at Northridge with Chemistry and Physics highlighting the College Prep program. There were two new teachers added this year, Mr. Coe and Mr. VanLue. Both have been a great asset to the science department.

Freshmen still don't know the meaning of work. They would rather play games.

Given some free time, these freshmen choose to gossip and to study.

Get to work! Amy VinGanten seems to be easily distracted.

Caught in the act! Mr. Whig is caught making a bomb to blow up his students.

What is going on? These students are grinning too much to actually be watching a film and doing a lab.

MUSIC MANIA

They played, marched, danced to entertain their audience, they're the music maniacs. Concert Band, Pitt Band, Pep Band, and marching along with the auxiliary unit delighted listeners with their performances. In addition to that, they competed in contests winning many medals. The vocal musicians also contributed to the enjoyment of the audience with their choir concerts. The three choirs, Concert, Freshman, and Sound of Friends, also participated in contest and captured numerous medals.

Opposite Page: The Raider Marching Band completes their first song, "Chain Reaction."

Opposite Bottom: Marching across the field, the band gets ready to perform their contest show.

Top: Frosty the Snowman played by Cindy Larue, dances around town at the Christmas Choir Concert.

Bottom: Bundled up to keep warm, Manbeth Groves and Michael Hurst sing by the sleigh.

HARD WORK PLUS DEDICATION EQUAL SUCCESS

Auxiliary with only twelve members, has had one of their best years in performances. The squad has put in numerous hours of their own time and worked hard to "there to be the best." The members of the Sound of Friends have also shown their dedication and excellence in their performances. They have been in concerts with the other N.H.S. organizations of Middlebury Community School, Banquets and many other places.

Right: Being a member of the rifle corps requires a lot of hard work and self discipline to perform the best. Even if a drop occurs, the performance must go on without showing frustration as Kim Severson is here.

Below: The Sound of Friends put in a lot of time planning choreography and then practice it with the song, but it all pays off to see that the audience is enjoying them and they have a lot of fun performing.

Top: The auxiliary did their best to plan and perform an exciting show for contest. A combination of flags and poems were used for the hit song "Flight/Date".

Center: Mike Wiegert played the role of a table-tale in a skit during the Christmas Concert.

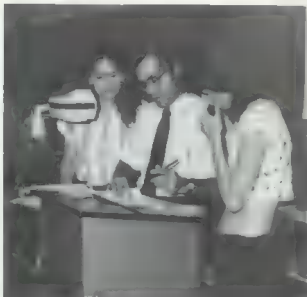

Left: The kick-off was a favorite part of the contest show for both the auxiliary and the audience.

CRAFTS

Home Economics and Industrial Arts are the practical arts. These classes help a person learn a skill or trade that may or may not become their life's occupation. Although these classes are a lot of work, they are also a lot of fun. Finally, what can be better than the sense of accomplishment when one has made something that looks professional?

Getting grades is usually not a happy time. Kelly Ellis and Shanon Dink prepare for the worst as Mr. Snyder looks them up.

Q & A: what's the course this time? Mrs. Snyder is all too familiar with Jeff's friends.

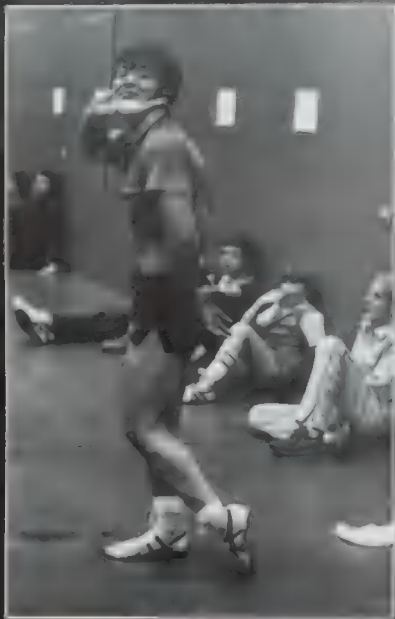

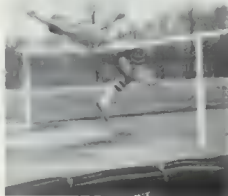

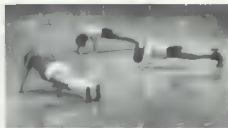

All decided out for the end of school. Kim Harrison smiles into the camera.

Trip timer will look for any excuse not to work. Bruce Krueger, Snoddy, I have some fun in front of the camera.

When learning everyone needs some help. Mr. Kaufman helps Jeff Harrison understand drafting.

A COMEBACK YEAR

Although the final 1983 football season was only 3-7, the season was successful. For the first time in several years the team won two consecutive games. Under the new cluster system the Raiders won 2 of 3 of their cluster games. The Most Valuable Player was Dan Falb. MVP was Brian Checkley and Freshman MVP was Bryan Hackett.

Running down the pep line, Terry Shrock is ready to win.

"...and you see this guy was 5'2". Dan Falb is telling Terry Shrock what really happened in the play.

GIRLS WHO WORK TOGETHER

It takes more than good spikers, servers, and the rest of the players to make a good team. Teamwork is what it's all about. Each girl works with the help of the others and Coach Jeanne Roberts. With that in mind the team ended the season with an excellent record.

The most valuable player for this year was Michelle Erickson.

Staring straight at the ball seems to help Stephanie Keck warm up for the big games.

As Tami Hawkins tugs for and with fingers stretched straight out, taps the ball.

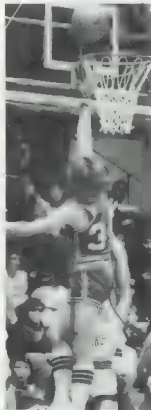

With one foot in the air and one hand stretched back, Sharon Miller gets ready to serve.

Michelle Dolby with her mouth wide open seems to be surprised at Kelly Reidenbach's great return while Sheryl Bender awaits more action.

During practice Michelle Erickson shows her stuff as she bends those knees, stretches her arms, and bumps the ball for a great set up.

Hoping for a basket, Charles Wiederman jumps up to tip the ball in.

Am. Hackett battles his Westview opponent for control of the ball.

THE END OF AN ERA

When the 1983-84 boy's basketball season ended, it was not just the end of just another season. The end of the season marked the end of Irv Pratt's extensive basketball coaching career. During his time at Northridge, becoming the only coach Northridge has ever known, Pratt developed a reputation as one of the finest coaches in Elkhart County. Finishing just one game shy of 200 wins at Northridge, his presence will be sorely missed. Wiederman, Hackett and Slabach earned MVP honors for their season of play.

Behind Coach Lee Pratt yell: plays to his team.

Settling, handing the ball, Tony Baughman maintains good his guards.

Rory Campbell goes up to get the rebound after the last control.

STEPPING OUT IN STYLE

The Cross Country team had a good season this year with a record of 8-11. Derek Hubartt, the only senior this year, was named Most Valuable Runner. He placed first or second in over half of the meets, and went on to place 16th at Regional Freshman. Craig Pratt, proved also to be a valuable member of the team, running as well as the experienced upperclassmen. With a team like this and only one senior, imagine what next year will be like.

First Row: Eric Hershberger, Craig Pratt. Second Row: Mike Maloy, Derek Hubartt. Third Row: Gary Roberts, Mark Lambright, Coach Gary Modlin, Larry Roberts, Joe Noble.

Concentration and determination are seen on Derek Hubartt's face as he strives to do his best.

MAT MAGIC

The wrestling team performed well this year. Many matmen qualified for regional. The entire team was led by Jeff Graber who won Most Valuable Player honors.

Jeff Graber prepared to pin his opponent during a later round of the match.

Thinking his next moves out carefully, Larry Roberts tensed up, ready to wrestle free from his opponent.

John E. Miller's face shows the exertion as he pushes his opponent closer to a pin.

GIRL'S B-BALL

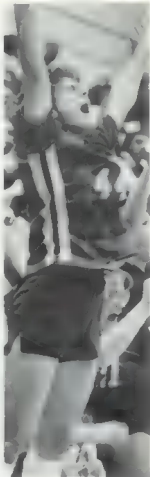

The girls took the court by storm this year, playing some very close and exciting overtime games. The team had excellent senior leadership. Michelle Erickson was MVP and played a large part in many of the Lady Raider victories.

"Our game plan: Hit 'em in the gut, grab the ball and run!" Mr. Weirich offers encouragement to his players.

Is this basketball or dominoes? Boy, Janice Lang spends a lot of time on the floor.

Justine Troyer lights his opponent as she tries for a basket.

BATTER UP!

The baseball team, under the coaching of Ned Miller, ended an excellent year last season. The Raider batters broke the previous school record for most games won in a single season. The 1984 squad finished the year with sixteen wins. Leading the team were the hot bat of Jason Stutzman and the superb pitching performances by Mark Slabach and Chris Kuehn. Congratulations to the team for their record-breaking year!

Those shades will really help Rich Groom spot those pop flies.

Are you sure this play will work? John Cammyath doesn't look too positive.

Ready in the outfield: Michelle Erickson looks prepared to handle anything that comes her way.

FIRST-YEAR SUCCESSSES

Under the coaching of Dave Willig, the 1984 Softball team completed their first year of play very successfully. The Raider team finished the season with a winning 8.5 record. If the first year is any indication, the softball program at NHS will be a well-respected one.

Barter up! The dugout watches intently as Northridge is up to bat.

Keeping her eye on the ball, Caryn Hallinger looks as if she is ready to swing.

Watching the ball head toward her, Vinh Pham assumes the ready position.

TENNIS ANYONE?

Both tennis teams did fairly well during the 1983-84 season. Under excellent leadership the teams learned a great deal, had fun, and brought home their share of victories.

With terrific form, Rick Morehouse prepares to return the ball.

A NEW BEGINNING

After four long years, the day the seniors were waiting for finally arrived — May 19, 1984 — their graduation. Although the rain drizzled all evening, it could not dampen the graduates' spirits. Student Speaker Dan Faib traced the past fifteen years of the seniors' schooling. He helped to bring out all the memories that were part of the seniors' past.

Following his speech, Guest Speaker and Senior Class Sponsor Tom Kat tau presented a thought-provoking and, at times, humorous speech urging the seniors to "be a little farsighted" and "a little nearsighted," "remember where you came from," and finally, to "Keep in touch."

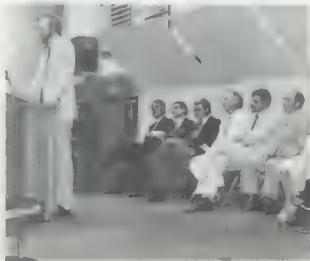

As the parents of the seniors looked on, the all-important diplomas were awarded and the seniors were declared "graduated." This declaration became the start of a new era in their lives. High school became a memory and was remembered by many as one of the most joyful and carefree periods of their life. The Yearbook Staff wishes the Class of 1984 the best of luck in the future.

WORKING TO KEEP THE JOY OF LIFE ALIVE

When Coachmen enters your life, the quality improves. Since 1964, Coachmen Industries has been a leader in the leisure-time marketplace.

As one of the world's largest recreational vehicle manufacturers, Coachmen markets over 200 models through more than 1,500 dealers. Solid service and dealer-related programs remain our trademarks.

Coachmen housing and realty group provides top quality manufactured housing that's affordable to most Americans.

We're especially proud to be the nation's largest distributor of RV and mobile home aftermarket parts and accessories, and our parts and supply group also serves the recreational vehicle, automotive and aerial lift industries.

Today, as we expand our commitment to better living, Fortune Magazine recognizes Coachmen on its list of the 1,000 largest-growing corporations in America.

Coachmen Industries. Working — in so many ways — to keep the joy of life alive.
